CAPTAIN'S STORY.

London, Jan. 31. A narrative rarely equalled outside the pages of Joseph Comrad's novels is told by Captain Tose, master of the "Antinoe," whose account is a long series of almost superhuman efforts to keep a disabled, engineless, and rudderless ship affort during an apparently unending hurricane of unprecedented violence. There are many piognant massuges like the signal to the "Presdent. Roosevelt" namely, "wish to abandon but have not the means:"

The "Antinoe's" cargo was wheat in bulk, which was virtually liquefied on the morning of January 28, causing a heavy list. The crew attempted the impossible task to stand on a sloping deck and to replace the hatch tarpaulins, which had been washed away;

COAL FACTS.

(British Wireless Service.)

Rugby, Jan. 80. The special industrial committee of the Trades Union Congress met yesterday for the further consideration of the situation that will arise the coal industry when on April 80 the subsidy granted last autumn is due to expire.

The Committee anticipates that whatever proposals are made by the Coal Commission which is now considering its report, some time must elapse before they can be adopted and a longer time before they can yield results. .

It is stated that the Trades Union Committee will concern Rself primarily with the economic side of the question during this period.

Political issues, such as unification or nationalisation, are regarded as being outside the scope of its responsibilities, wages and conditions of labour being its chief con-

Moscow, Jan. 30. The Chinese Charge d'Affaires delivered a Note to M. Chicherin, the Commissar for Foreign Affairs; stating that the latter's telegram was twice telegraphed to Marshall Chang Tso-lin urging the necessity of settling the dispute.

M. Chicherin replied hoping the Chinese Government would take steps definitely to settle this regrettable incident and preclude any possibility of its recurrence. A week ago the Chinese miliauthorities arrested Ivanoff, the Soviet General Man-

SPEECH.

Rugby, Jan. 30. The newspapers state that the text of the King's speech at the opening of Parliament on Tuesday was finally approved by the Cabinet at yesterday's meeting.

It is generally accepted that ilthough the speech may contain reference to the Government's agricultural policy, measures to be mentioned will be the Economy Bill, Electricity Bill and the Merchandise Marks Bill. The Italian debt settlement, and no doubt the mining crisis will be referred to, and it is generally agred that the session is to be one of finance and economy more than of legislation. It is stated that one of the main objects of the scheme to be introduced at an early stage of the bession by the Minister of Agriculture will be to encourage banks to provide credits for farmers on a large scale so that the big farmers may extend the scope of their operations and the small ones may be induced to purchase their holdings outright.

WORLD PEACE.

(British Wireless Service.)

Rugby, Jan. 80. Commenting on Sir Austen Chamberlain's conversations with Briand, the "Times" remarks that no doubt a good deal was said about the present position of Germany, the occupying forces in the Rhineland, and the prospects of the entry of Germany into the League of

"As to the Rhineland troops, M. Briand has indicated quite plainly that the intention is to reduce their number as soon as possible, but as Sir Austen Chamberlain remarked, the spirit of Locarno must be mutual, and the unfavourable ampression made-in spite of Herr Luther's courageous efforts-by this weak's debate in the Reichstag can be most readily modified by an early and emphatic vote in favour of immediate formal application for admission to the League."

Dealing more broadly with the implications of the conversations, the "Times" adds that they indicate the growing confization of interna-tional, particularly of European, unity which took in Locarno the form of a definite political act, and is being interpreted more widely, and perhaps more speculatively, and tical future, in extending the work of the League of Nations.

This tendency it adds is patiently constructive. It is or should be, directed to the steady encouragement of every element of stability that exists in Europe.

MAKING MONEY SUZANNE LENGLEN AS

RETAINS AMATEUR STATUS.

London, Jan. 3. The "Weekly Dispatch" says:--"Many have wondered how Mile. Suzanne, Lenglen, whose parents. enjoy only moderate means, is enabled to carry on without losing her amateur status.

"Now it is revealed that Suzanne has become a mannequin in the famous Parislan firm of Jean Patou, which makes her two-piece sports suits, sweaters, silk pleated tennis costumes, scarves, evening gowns and cloaks.

"Jean Patou is doing a roaring business in feminine sports clothes because Suzanne goes everywhere in the smartest society, and danges herself to a standstill. Off the courts she is a graceful figure, and makes an excellent mannequing It is hoped that there is no tennis law against the champion becoming a mannequin, because her father is still very ill. Suzarne does much to keep things going.'
